Our offshore operations allow us to cut consulting resource cost and offer reduced delivery time resulting in cost savings for the client, thereby influencing the client's success in the market by enhancing its revenue.

► Unique Culture

We have a unique culture within our organization that differentiates us from other staffing firms and helps us attract, motivate, develop, and retain outstanding professionals. Unitep is committed to developing its consulting staff both through formal teaching and through on-the-job learning. Professional development, rigorous performance appraisal, competitive compensation structure, various corporate activities are some of the practices that contribute to the great success in employee retention at Unitep.

► Superior, Personalized Service

Unitep is a professional firm. We strongly believe that a professional firm should not plan growth or set quotas. If it does, the firm may not be objective and independent servicing a client: Account Manager will be tempted to "sell" rather than make certain that value for the client can really be delivered. We measure our success by the increased stature and reputation among our clients. Our Account Managers periodically provide clients with a Client Feedback Form that helps us personalize and improve our service for a particular client.
